

Architecture

Architecture - Bachelor of Design

UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

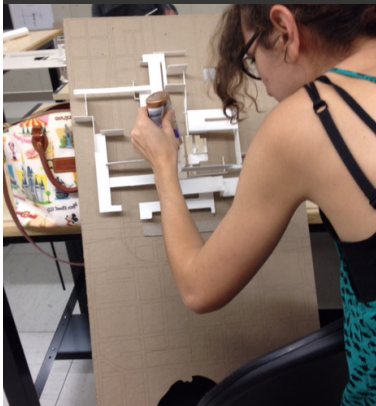

DESCRIPTION

The Bachelor of Design in Architecture program is a partnership with Valencia Community College and the University of Florida, enabling students to complete an NAAB accredited architectural program in Central Florida. Students earn the credentials needed to become a design professional or begin preparing for a career as an architect.

CAREERS

- Building Inspector
- Drafts-person
- Industrial Engineer
- Set Designer
- CAD Operator
- Architectural Drafter
- Civil Engineer
- Contractor
- Real Estate Appraiser
- Furniture Designer
- Site Planner
- Surveyor

INFO

Through the 2+2+2 program, you can complete your associate's degree at Valencia, your bachelor's degree at UCF and your master's degree at UF. The associate's and bachelor's degree programs are housed at the joint-use University Center on Valencia's West Campus, and the master's program is located at UF's Citylab Orlando in downtown Orlando.

HIGHLIGHTS

- The program has an articulated curriculum with academic partners at Valencia College and the University of Florida Master's of Architecture program.
- Students regularly participate in Internship for Credit programs that allow for Professional Practice experience in local firms while earning academic credit towards graduation.
- Students have access to membership in the American Institute of Architecture Students and various professional networking opportunities.
- Community professionals are key to the vitality of the program, serving as Academic Jurors and facilitating key courses.

UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA SCHOOL OF VISUAL ARTS & DESIGN

Admin Office: VAB 117
Phone: 407-823-2676
Fax: 407-823-6470

12400 Aquarius Agora Dr.
Orlando, FL 32816
svad.ucf.edu

Advising Office: NSC 121
Phone: 407-823-1355
Email: svadadvising@ucf.edu